Advanced Facilitative Leadership: Navigate Your Way through Conflict

Brought to you by Michigan State University Extension

Have you led or participated in meetings or other group activities where personal, relational, organizational or situational differences among members inevitably lead to conflict? The Advanced Facilitative Leadership: Navigate Your Way through Conflict workshop offers enhanced opportunities to build skills around facilitative leadership. Participants will gain increased confidence and competence in facilitating and managing conflict-prone situations by understanding oneself in high-heat situations, managing one’s emotions in the moment, and helping others work toward shared goals and greater understanding among group members.

Advanced Facilitative Leadership is a three-day workshop designed by MSU Extension (MSUE) educators and specialists. Since it relies on an understanding of basic facilitation skills, MSUE’s basic Facilitative Leadership workshop is a prerequisite (http://msue.anr.msu.edu/program/info/facilitative_leadership).

The workshop will be offered on Wednesday, December 6 through Friday, December 8 at the Kettunen Center in Tustin, MI. The $495 registration fee includes all materials, lodging for two nights, and all meals (lunch on Dec. 6 through lunch on Dec. 8).

For more information, contact:

Georgia Peterson
Morrill Hall of Agriculture
446 W Circle Drive, Room 11
East Lansing, MI 48824
Phone: 517-353-9435
Fax: 517-432-1048
E-mail: petersog@msu.edu